February 2020 Update

A Message from AAH's New Executive Director

Two weeks ago, I sat down with Board President Dick Burk to accept the position as Executive Director of AAH. Since then, I have joined the Board through a strategy planning session, met current and former staff who have helped me get acquainted with daily operations, ran into volunteers who give so generously of their time, and drank countless cups of coffee to fuel me through marathon days of deep diving into this incredible organization.

It is quite easy to find yourself amazed by the work of AAH. The story of its founding, the commitment of the Board, and incredible supporters, like you, who make individual commitments, month after month, year after year, to ensure that a child you may never meet in a place you may never see might have an opportunity to build a foundation for their own future. It is a testament of how far compassion and kindness can reach, which has allowed this organization to grow exponentially since it was founded.

I look forward to learning your stories, your pathways that have led you to AHH's doorstep. I look forward to many milestones and celebrations as the organization, and we, as part of that organization, continue to see it continue to grow.

Yours in growth,

Courtney Brooks Kamin

Travel to Uganda with AAH!

Each year, AAH offers opportunities for supporters to travel to Uganda with us to visit our program and volunteer at Arlington Junior School and at the Beatrice Tierney Health Clinics. Traveling with AAH to Uganda is an opportunity to explore and stay in Africa at a relatively low cost and to contribute your talents to a meaningful program.

Your copy should address 3 key questions:
Who am I writing for?
(Audience)
Why should they care?
(Benefit) What do I want them to do here? (Call-to-Action)

Create a great offer by adding words like "free" "personalized" "complimentary" or "customized." A sense of urgency often helps readers take an action, so think about inserting phrases like "for a limited time only" or "only 7 remaining!"
